They can even create work orders on the fly. The mobile interface only provides access to the information techs need – nothing more – so there's no extraneous data to slow them down.

FaciliWorks Mobile allows quick data retrieval through various inputs including voice (talk-to-text), barcode scanning, filtering and smart lists. Smart lists are very convenient when retrieving data in the field. You can enter in a single word or part of a word that is in the description of a part, asset, task, staff member or tool. FaciliWorks Mobile then returns a list of related items and you simply select the desired item from this list.
